Code of Conduct for Board Members

Adapted from the Australian Institute of Company Directors
Code of Conduct

1. A director must act honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the whole organisation.
2. A director has a duty to use care and diligence in fulfilling the functions of office and exercising the powers attached to that office.
3. A director must use the powers of office for proper purposes, in the best interests of the organisation as a whole.
4. A director must recognise that the primary responsibility is to the organisation's members as a whole but should, where appropriate, have regard for the interests of all stakeholders in the organisation.
5. A director must not make improper use of information acquired as a director.
6. A director must not take improper advantage of his/her position as a director.
7. A director must not allow personal interests, or the interests of any associated person, to conflict with the interests of the organisation.
8. A director has an obligation to be independent in judgement and actions and to take all reasonable steps to be satisfied as to the soundness of the decisions of the Board.
9. Confidential information received by a director in the course of the exercise of directorial duties remains the property of the organisation from which it was obtained and it is improper to disclose it, or allow it to be disclosed, unless the disclosure has been authorised by the person from whom the information is provided, or is required by law.
10. A director should not engage in conduct likely to bring discredit upon the organisation.
11. A director has an obligation, at all times, to comply with the spirit as well as the letter of the law and with the principles of this code.
